

8 - THE GREAT OUTDOORS

- Trail to the rear terrace and beyond
- Observation of the natural world
- The River Severn:
 - River life, fish, frogs, tadpoles and newts
 - Leisure pursuits, swimming, fishing and boating
- The landscape beyond:
 - Shropshire Hills
 - Crops and farming, fields and woods, worms and butterflies, birds and bees
- The sky above:
 - Clouds, snow, rain and sun
 - Sunrise and sunset, the eternal cycle of life
- Closer to home:
 - The managed garden
 - Vegetables and produce
 - Specimen trees and shrubs
 - Horticultural endeavour
- Beyond all of this:
 - A wider world to explore

9 - THE DOCTOR'S WALK

- The path behind the house with views down to the Severn and beyond
- Charles may have often wandered down this pathway alone:
 - With time to think and ponder
 - Exercising his inquisitive and intuitive mind
 - Conjecturing and problem solving in his head
 - Considering his growing collection, and asking himself:
 - What more do I need to solve the riddle?
 - Where will I find the clues?
 - Can I find the answers in Shropshire, in England or beyond?

Visitors may join him in this quest and thirst for deeper knowledge... following his journey through interactive and involving exhibits and boardwalks down to the river bank.
